THE INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL ON EDUCATION FOR TEACHING (ICET) 63RD WORLD ASSEMBLY 2019

HOSTED BY:

University of Johannesburg, Faculty of Education, Department of Education and Curriculum Studies, Auckland Park, 2006, South Africa

THEME: Reconceptualising teacher education for the 4th Industrial Revolution and knowledge democracy: teaching beyond the 3Rs

1st ANNOUNCEMENT AND CALL FOR PAPERS

DATE: 9 – 11 JULY 2019

VENUE: GLENBURN LODGE & SPA
(www.facebook.com/GlenburnLodge)

ICET and the Faculty of Education at the University of Johannesburg invite educational researchers, practitioners and policy makers to submit abstracts/proposals for the ICET 63rd World Assembly 2019. The assembly welcomes 200 scholars each year, representing views and research traditions from all parts of the world.

CALL FOR PAPERS

The submission of abstracts is open to ICET members and non-members.

Oral paper presentations and workshops are the formats of presentation at the ICET 2019 Conference. Presentations within the following themes are invited for presentation at the conference:

Theme:

(Re)conceptualising teacher education: the 4th Industrial Revolution, knowledge democracy, or teaching beyond the 3Rs?

Teacher education has to respond to the 4th industrial revolution – specifically, contemporary realities and imperatives that include, amongst others, deep learning, critical thinking, the capacity for global communication, social networking and new technologies while promoting and sustaining knowledge democracy. A teacher education conference focusing on these aspects is particularly significant to South Africa and many countries in developing and developed contexts. The importance of developing teacher capacity with, for example, knowledge, values, attitudes and relevant skills to adapt in this new context cannot be underplayed. In short, the conference provides a platform for (re)conceptualising teachers' capacity for developing future-ready learners.

Sub-themes

1. Internationalization/globalization and the 4th industrial revolution.
2. Artificial intelligence and teacher education.
3. Deep learning and disciplinary knowledge.
4. Teachers' professional learning for an integrated curriculum.
5. The 4th industrial revolution and teacher identity.
6. ICTs in education.
7. Language, culture and identity and the 4th Industrial revolution.
8. Social justice and educational access.

Guidelines and instructions:

Prospective presenters are invited to submit abstracts of 300-500 words, poster and symposia summaries. Include a clear title of the presentation, author/s, an indication of the sub-theme within which the paper should be considered, institutional or other affiliation and contact details. Abstracts should be submitted by e-mail to Petra Lawson at conferencepl@gmail.com on the prescribed form by 28th February 2019.

Only abstracts submitted on the prescribed form will be accepted.

Acknowledgement of receipt of all abstracts:

Within three working days of the abstract having been received, an email will be sent to acknowledge receipt. The corresponding author will be provided with an abstract number that should be stated in all further correspondence.

Abstracts will be considered on a continual basis.
